

The 157th TAOYAKA Program Seminar The 433rd IDEC Seminar and 123rd Study session of “Development and Cultural Change Forum”

Agricultural development programs and their implications in Nepal

Speaker

Kul Prasad Dawadi

Crop Development Officer

Ministry of Agriculture and Livestock Development, Nepal

The presentation will briefly introduce the Agriculture Development Strategy (ADS), which is the current guiding document for overall agricultural development in Nepal. Similarly, the speaker will discuss the current agricultural programs implemented by the government of Nepal through the internal fund or external fund by donor agencies. Such programs are aimed at improving livelihoods of farmer in general and smallholder farmers in particular via increased agricultural productivity and market engagement. He will highlight the seed system as envisaged in the Seed Vision in Nepal. Based on his field level involvement, he will relate such programs with their implications to the livelihoods of small holder farmers in Nepal.
